

DIS/Copenhagen Semester Program

Expected/Approximate Costs for 2017/2018 AY

You should expect the following costs to be added to your Jefferson (Philadelphia University + Thomas Jefferson University) Student Account:

These costs are subject to change at the discretion of all applicable parties involved

Jefferson – East Falls Campus Tuition

DIS Housing = $6,225*

International Medical Insurance = $250 (based on 2017 policy rates)

Jefferson – East Falls Campus Study Abroad Administrative Fee = $800

Danish residence permit = $350

For non-host family accommodations, this fee includes a $600 food stipend, which students will receive upon arrival. For host family accommodations, this fee includes meals.*

The costs below will not be on your Jefferson Student Account, but are estimated additional costs that you should budget for:

Round-trip Airfare = $1,000 - $1,500 (approximate range)

Meals* = $400-550 / month, after the stipend (approximate range)

Local Cell Phone and Plan = $40 per month (international plan and phone is higher)

Personal Expenses = $2,000 - $3,000 (approximate range)

The DIS program does not have a meal plan. Students who do not stay with a host family will purchase their own food and prepare their food at home.*

This cost represents money that student will likely spend on weekend trips, personal shopping, tours, etc. This expense varies per student, hence the broad range. We recommend discussing a realistic budget for these expenses as a family.*

Financial Aid Information:

For the costs listed above that will be added to your Jefferson Student Account, your Jefferson financial aid package will be applied as usual*. Should you need to request additional aid to help cover your study abroad fees, depending on your eligibility, you may have an opportunity to increase your aid (primarily loans) prior to receiving your university bill. For more information on study abroad and financial aid, please contact Lisa Cooper in the Financial Aid Office at CooperL@philau.edu.

Study Abroad fees cannot be included in your FAFSA. These additional fees will be assessed by the Financial Aid Office separately.*
